PubMed Database

PubMed is a service of the U.S. National Library of Medicine that provides citations and abstracts to medical, nursing, dental, veterinary, health care, and preclinical sciences journal articles.

Miami Dade College is a PubMed LinkOut Library, which enables links from PubMed to the full-text of the journal article if it is available in a MDC Libraries’ database.

You must access PubMed via this link for the LinkOut features to work: http://libraryguides.mdc.edu/pa

You will need to log in:

If the full-text of the article is available, this icon will appear in the upper right-hand corner of the screen. Click on this icon to retrieve the full article.

Example:

If you do not see this icon, contact the library (305-237-4129), and we will assist you in getting the full article.